STORAGE UNITS

2016

Antonio Citterio

Description

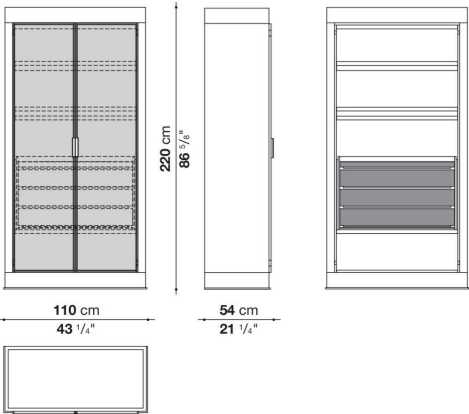

The Eracle storage unit for the sleeping area features rigorous, well-balanced proportions. Also proposed in a double-sided version, it is characterised by volumes, doors and backs with transparent glass (lined internally with high-tech fabric) and metallic profiles. The use of precious materials ensures minimal, sophisticated aesthetics: the wooden frame comes in all the essences available in the catalogue, while the interior is lined with melamine faced colonial leather and is fitted with a chest of drawers. Trays and clothes rails in colonial leather and a complete range of accessories offer extensive customisation solutions. The light positioned inside the storage unit offers a refined vintage detail that echoes the display units of the 1950s. For years the star of the Maxalto range for the bedroom, the wardrobe is also presented in a “display” version with glass doors and sides, making it a real showcase for clothing. The inside is embellished with a raffia back panel, a style choice also designed to lend more solidity to the interiors.
